MICHAEL WHITE'S NARRATIVE THERAPY

Springerlink gibt für kurze Zeit einen Artikel des englischen systemischen Therapeuten Alan Carr frei, der 1998 in "Contemporary Family Therapy" über den Ansatz narrativer Therapie von Michael White erschienen ist: "A systematized description of a number of practices central to Michael Whites' narrative approach to therapy is given. These include collaborative positioning of the therapist, externalizing the problem, excavating unique outcomes, thickening the new plot, and linking the new plot to the past and the future. The practices of remembering and incorporation, using literary means to achieve therapeutic ends, and facilitating taking-it-back practices are also described. A number of questions are given which may be useful for those concerned with narrative therapy to address". Unklar ist, wie lange der Artikel frei zugänglich ist. Zum vollständigen Text...
